Summary: Tesla released its 2026 first-quarter financial earnings, showing a net income of $477 million. The company has been investing heavily in AI, and Elon Musk's acquisition of a mystery company has been disclosed. Meanwhile, Musk is facing backlash from OpenAI CEO Sam Altman, who accused him of damaging the AI startup's culture. Additionally, General Motors plans to upgrade its vehicles with Google's Gemini AI assistant, affecting around four million vehicles in the US.

Challenges Faced

- Indentation and debugging issues
- Rendering HTML correctly in Streamlit
- API integration problems
- Variable scope and error handling
- UI formatting improvements

Future Improvements

- Advanced analytics charts
- User login system
- Dark mode support
- Search history feature
- Export summaries as PDF

Conclusion

The AI News Research Tool successfully combines APIs, AI models, and interactive dashboards to provide users with quick and meaningful news insights
